Indo-Iran Cooperation to root out extremism

1682. DR.T. SUBBARAMI REDDY: Will the Minister of EXTERNAL AFFAIRS be pleased to state:

(a) whether India and Iran have decided to cooperate in rooting out extremism from the region;

(b) if so, whether any agreement in this regard has been reached between the two countries;

(c) if so, the details thereof; and

(d) whether any action plan has been undertaken by the two countries in this regard?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS (SHRI DIGVIJAY SINGH): (a) to (d) India and Iran have held regular consultations on the existing and emerging threats to regional peace and stability, including from international terrorism. This was reflected in the Tehran Declaration, signed by Prime Minister Shri Atal Bihari Vajpayee and President of Iran Sayed Mohammad Khatami, during Prime Minister's visit to Iran in April 2001. The Declaration condemned states that aid, abet, and directly support international terrorism and extremism and called on the international community to intensify its efforts to combat terrorism. In the Declaration, India and Iran also reiterated their resolve to work to strengthen the international consensus and legal regimes against terrorism, including early finalization of a Comprehensive Convention on International Terrorism.

During the Home/Interior Secretary level talks held between India and Iran in January this year, both sides resolved to enter into close cooperation in eradicating the scourge of terrorism. The areas of cooperation discussed also included law enforcement.

During the recent visit of Mr. Hasan Roohani, Secretary, Supreme National Security Council of Iran, India and Iran condemned terrorism and agreed to cooperate for combating international terrorism in the region.
